Executive Director's Report

Books for Learners Fund Help us open books so we can open minds!

We would like to supply workbooks for learners who cannot afford to purchase them and who do not qualify for assistance from another agency. Our learners tell us that opening the pages of their book, for the first time, gives them a feeling of ownership and helps them continue on their pathway to success.

Can you help with this project? Contact Anne 519-428-0064 hnliteracy@kwic.com.

A charitable tax receipt will be issued. We would also like to post your contribution in our next newsletter (April 2008) and in our Annual Report (available at the Annual General Meeting - May 2008).

2007 Update:

Roberta & John Chapman- $100.00

Starting Over at 42 Years Old

I worked as a Crossing Guard for about six years to help my daughter while she was in University. Then my younger daughter went to College two years ago, so I decided to go back to school and do something for myself. I came to school to work on getting my GED. Someday, I may write my biography.

Alternate Methods to Completing School

My reflections towards the adult learning program are really positive. I feel that an adolescent or adult with comprehension problems could benefit greatly from this program. The small classroom environment is ideal for A.D.D. or attention-needing individuals. If you cannot focus in a seventeen-pupil class, maybe your Gr. 12 could be reached by this alternate method.

Kyle

The Lazy Brain

Math is something I struggle with. If I don't do it every day I forget what I've learned. Actually, I can forget over the period of a smoke break. You can tell when my class is doing Math because we're all rubbing our temples and talking to ourselves. If this sounds like you, don't give up. "YOU CAN DO IT!!!!"

Learning from The Past

Growing up I thought life sucked, and no one loved me. As a teenager, I had so many problems that I became suicidal. I got help and years later became better. Alas, for the next three years came friends with drugs and partying. Finally, I decided to ditch this suicidal high-risk game. I just did it. I then joined the Adult Learning Centre to work toward my GED and am already halfway there. I have built some great friendships in this program. I wouldn't change the past. I learned too much from it to go back now.

Thanks Susan, Marie, Sarah and other fellow pupils for supporting and believing me.

My Best Friend Tess

My best friend is my puppy Tess. She knows everything about me. She knows my thoughts, dreams, and fears. She shows me love and care. We go for long walks and play ball together. She is a black and white Boston Terrier. She means the world to me even though she eats my shoes and hogs the bed. She will always be my best friend. When we go for car rides, she sits in the front with me. When we go to Tim Horton's, she must have four plain timbits. She is the best dog I could ever ask for.

Ashes in the Alley

She was a girl
And she had a plan
Ashes in the alley
Babies in the attic

Leave them on the brow with a
Bloodstain on her hand
No legs left for walking
No head left for talking
Ashes in the alley
Babies in the attic

In those days she went to Loretto
In a lovely dress
With the money her dad stole
Tried so hard to impress

Crazy brown eyes

Babies in the attic
Ashes in the alley

Does she feel safe in her mommy's
Bed, while the one that she wed
Sleeps on the brow
Where did she go? Who is she now?
Ashes in the alley. Babies in the attic.

Reach for the Stars

I started at the Haldimand Literacy Council in November 2006. Since then, I've learned so much. I have built my self-confidence and self-esteem so much so that I enrolled in a course at Mohawk College. I have completed course 1 of 6 and am excited about going into course 2. Anything is possible!

Bev

My Plan

My plan is to get my GED, then complete additional computer courses. Then, I want to get a job that I can do from home, either in accounting or bookkeeping. My hope is to complete this within 2 years.

Teresa

My Greatest Hopes

To be able to succeed in life's struggles.
To be able to gain my sense of well-being.
To become self-confident.
To get somewhere in life again.

Jodie

My School

When I first started school, I couldn't even spell basic words. Now I can spell all sorts of words; all I have to do is sound them out, and I can spell them. Math was also hard for me, but now I'm on GED Math, and it's not that hard. I really like coming to school. It's fun to be here and meet all sorts of people.

Joleen

What Learning Means to Me

Being in this learning program is the most wonderful decision I have ever made. It's changed my way of thinking, and the way I look at life. The possibilities are endless; my future is an open book. I welcome new ideas every day. Without the Haldimand-Norfolk Literacy program, I would still have a closed mind. Many thanks to Marie and Susan for always being there.
